Task 2.1. Complete with a phrase from the groups above:

My grandmother's kitchen

When I was little, my family lived in a small flat, so every Sunday we went to my grandmother's house. She had a big kitchen, and that was where the whole family met. My mum has three sisters, and they all came with their children, so there were always at least ten of us around the table.

My grandmother loved cooking, but she never let anyone help her — she said the kitchen was her kingdom. The children's job was different: we laid the table, and after lunch we washed up together. I hated washing up then, but now I understand it taught us to work as a team.

These Sunday lunches stopped when I was fifteen, because we moved to another city. I still call my grandmother every week. She is eighty now and cannot cook for ten people any more, but when I visit, she always makes my favourite soup.

Mark each statement — 1) True · 2) False · 3) Not stated:

- 1. The author's family lived in a large house. — _____
- 2. More than eight people usually came to the Sunday lunches. — _____
- 3. The grandmother taught the children how to cook. — _____
- 4. The author enjoyed washing up as a child. — _____
- 5. The grandmother lives alone now. — _____
- 6. The author keeps in touch with the grandmother. — _____

Exam strategy. «Not stated» ≠ «False». False — текст говорит ПРОТИВОПОЛОЖНОЕ. Not stated — в тексте об этом НЕТ информации (нельзя проверить ни да, ни нет). Если тянет догадаться из жизненного опыта — это сигнал «Not stated».
